

JEREMY M. WONG

BRINGING ATHLETES CLOSER TO GOD IN A REAL WAY

OCTOBER 2010

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 3

Hey All!

A Month Later...

And I already feel like I've learned so much through my internship with Athletes in Action. The biggest aspect I've been learning about is practical ministry. As I've told many of you before one area I am really excited about is discipleship/mentoring. I've come to realize how inexperienced I am. The good news is I have been shadowing my campus director, Jon, for the past two weeks, during his 1-on-1 meetings with guys. After the meeting is over, we then have time to reflect on and evaluate the meeting. This gives me a better feel for discipleship. The coolest thing is that each meeting is unique in its own way and you really need to be sensitive to the Holy Spirit's leading. Discipleship is what gets me fired up! It is such an encouragement to see the enthusiasm for God and His Word from young athletes.

We needed to end a meeting at 1:15pm so Bilal (a football player) could get to practice on time. At 1:12pm Jon decided to stop short. Yet, the young man asked to go through one more passage of Scripture before he left. As I look back on it, my heart can only smile. It might have been a small gesture, but it's not too often I see that kind of eagerness for the things of God.

Videos on Demand

Another aspect of my ministry with AIA has been working on video editing. My friend, Daniel, recently bought me a copy of Adobe Premiere Pro CS5 for my ministry. Jon and I are putting together some videos from this past summer's Ultimate Training Camp. Through this I've had a chance to reminisce about UTC. It was a great time where God touched the lives of so many athletes. Check my website for links to some of the videos!

Church

We had our Harvest Festival! It was tons of fun with a variety of games for the kids, a jumping castle, and our newest event, the dunk tank! More importantly, a lot of people showed up and I hope they were able to see Jesus in our church body. Check out my picture... Can you guess what I was?

Daily Life

God has really been pressing upon my heart the importance of how I live my life day by day. I think I get caught up in the future, wondering where I'm going to be or what I'm going to do. I need to focus on the here and now. But I also believe that the future will become clearer as I seek the Lord on a daily basis.

Thank You

God continues to remind me of those of you who are supporting me! I could not do it without you. Thank you so very much for your financial generosity as well as your prayers. You are truly investing in Kingdom growth!

Working together,
Jeremy

For more information, you can check out my website at www.wongside.com/jeremy

Me and Aaron (a track sprinter) on the UA Mall listening to an apologist, Cliffe Knechtle

Cliffe is a wonderful inspiration!

Me and Brittany at our church's annual Harvest Festival!

Aaron and I went to the UA vs. OSU football game. Our first lost of the season :(