GO AND MAKE DISCIPLES

One of my favorite parts of ministry is discipleship. It is incredibly rewarding to see a man grow in his relationship with the Lord. (top left) Danny is a remarkable disciple and the epitome of teachable. He always has a knack for insightful questions and during our times, soaked up everything like a sponge. I loved conversing with him about life, relationships, football, and God. (top right) Ty is a guy I would characterize as smart and thoughtful, who also liked to crush guys on the football field. That combination is rare. One of my highlights was discussing, with him, the subject of diversity from an ethnic minority perspective. (bottom left) Jacob is a natural born leader. He was my only guy leader for AIA this year and he wasn't even an athlete! In fact, this picture is of him and me at his commissioning service for the Army. One of the things I loved about Jacob was his desire to be challenged in his spiritual life and character. I put him to the test with difficult things and he stepped up to the challenge. Please pray for him as serves in the Army's newest branch, Cyber Command. (bottom right) Michael is young in the faith, but eager to learn. I can still picture him energetically taking notes on the week's topic such as God's forgiveness and who is the Holy Spirit. He also did an awesome job applying our AIA Principles on the football field.
